Making It Better, Together.

2022 CAMDEN COUNTY YOUTH SERVICES, COMMISSION SERVICES AND COMMUNITY PROGRAMS

Dear/To: The Youth of Camden County,

I am proud of the next generation of youth in Camden County; despite challenges that may arise our youth are capable. It is when the correct tools and resources are provided our youth achieve their dreams and goals.

In addition, to the resources provided in this guide I want our youth to know they are loved and supported in all they aspire to be and achieve and remind them to be confident, use their voice, and remain hardworking as they go throughout life.

The youth are our future and we must support and involve them as they grow and become involved in skills and fields that stimulate their interest.

Sincerely,

Jonathan L. Young, Sr.
Camden County Commissioner

Children are different. They are not merely smaller versions of adults. They are a vulnerable and precious part of our community afforded special protection. When a child enters the criminal justice system, the family court endeavors to find rehabilitative solutions while tackling complex legal and social issues. In a juvenile delinquency case, because the family court has jurisdiction over the child and the child's family, the judge can explore the wide range of dispositional options to meet the goal of rehabilitation. The options available to the court are enhanced community-based programs and resources.

This 2022 Camden County Youth Services Commission Program Services Guide further enriches and enhances services available to Camden County's youth population by offering wide-ranging services. The resources contained herein include delinquency prevention resources, diversionary services, detention alternatives, dispositional options, and community-based services.

On the behalf of the Office of Juvenile Defense Services (OJDS), the Camden Trial Region of the Office of the Public Defender is grateful to the Camden County Youth Services Commission for the creation of this invaluable resource and guide. This is a toolkit that will prove useful to community members, judges, lawyers, and families as they endeavor build up and equip our most valuable resource, our children.

The Camden County Youth Services Commission is the single county designated entity responsible for the planning, implementation, and monitoring of a community-based plan of sanctions and services for youth adjudicated or charged as delinquent and delinquency prevention programs.

The Camden County Youth Services Commission is comprised of high-level policy makers, parents, youth, and youth serving organizations in Camden County that are dedicated to developing and delivering effective and accessible programs and services that help youth, young adults, and families reach their full potential.

Our Vision is to provide equitable opportunities so children, youth, and families in our region can thrive through advocacy for accessible, culturally relevant, responsive, and an integrated and coordinated system of care for youth and families.

POINTS OF INTERVENTION DEFINITIONS

Each of the programs supported by the Camden County Youth Services Commission Continuum of Care has a specific goal.

PREVENTION: To prevent youth from engaging in anti-social and delinquent behavior and from taking part in other problem behaviors that are pathways to delinquency.

DIVERSION: To provide services and/or informal sanctions to youth who have begun to engage in anti-social and low-level delinquent behavior to prevent youth from continuing a delinquent pathway.

DETENTION/DETENTION ALTERNATIVE: To ensure youth's presence at court hearings and to provide short term (45-60 days) supervision sufficient to safely maintain appropriate youth in the community while awaiting the final disposition of their case.

DISPOSITION: To provide the court and probation with a range of options that match the supervision and service needs of youth in their communities to reduce recidivism.

REENTRY: To provide youth transitioning from JJC residential programs and youth returning from secure facilities with additional support for successful reintegration into their communities to reduce recidivism

The Camden County Board of Commissioners and the Camden County Youth Services Commission have gathered resources available for youth, families, community, schools, and system partners to connect with. Thank you to everyone that has supported the effort in collecting this information.

ADDITIONAL WORKSHOPS AVAILABLE IN YOUR COMMUNITY

Antibullying Workshop:

Rachel Baker and Shane Baker – Owners of Tiger Schulman in Cherry Hill. Rachel and her husband Shane have created an interactive workshop that speaks on bullying and the effects of bullying. In the past we have presented this to students between the ages of 14-19, but the presentation is welcoming to all ages. Contact: rachel@empowersel.org or Rachel.kendall.baker@gmail.com – This workshop is amazing.

Youth Healing Team:

The Youth Healing team can present to youth and or adults. The Youth Healing Team has three back-to-back workshops that last about 1-2 hours each. The three-session series is geared towards adults. The first workshop engages the audience on ACES and dealing with stress. They provide a tool to manage stressful and triggering situations and how to create healing environments. The second workshop is focused on how and why youth react the way they do and adolescent brain development. The third workshop reviews ways to implement stress free environments where people are mindful of each other's backgrounds and experiences. The youth sessions are bit of all of these mixed in to one. It is an interactive session that youth have enjoyed in previous years at the Youth Summit. While this sounds like it may be too much, it is presented in a way to provide youth an understanding of much harder it is to work to be at peace and resolve conflict without negative behaviors. Contact information: Kate Dougherty - kate@hopeworks.org.

D-Boys Boxing:

Provides a 45 min – 1-hour workshop on changing lives and using positive prosocial activities to transfer negative feelings and responses into positive workouts. David Price's son Dylan Price is a professional boxer and is undefeated. He will most likely be present at the workshop. Contact information: DavidPrice4323@gmail.com or 1-856-842-7577

Presentation on Vaping:

www.tobaccofreenj.com/don-t-get-vaped-in-1 - First, Adult to Adult training: School personnel, parents and community with Don't Get Vaped In: The Next Generation of Tobacco Addiction

With this training, you will receive a training manual complete with PowerPoints with corresponding talking points to guide your presentation. To ensure that you are using the most up to date information, we have created a Trainer Portal that participants who have attended the training can have access to. Second, Adult to Youth training: Health teachers, prevention educators and other adults teaching youth utilizing the Don't Get Vaped In curriculum; and 3. Youth to Youth training: This version is for youth leaders to utilize as a framework for peer-to-peer education. This Peer-to-Peer model is the ideal way to have youth educate their peers about the dangers of vaping and e-cigarettes. This curriculum can be useful "as is" or be re-designed (content remains) by your youth group.

Teaching Consent:

In today's culture, young people are bombarded with messages about sex and consent. Across genders, youth are often navigating these messages and their own boundaries without a firm understanding of what it means to give consent. Given the high numbers of sexual assault, it is critical for youth to learn to distinguish between the myths and the facts. In this workshop, students will learn what consent is, why it is necessary and how to ensure that consent is freely given, every time. Students will then apply their knowledge to realistic scenarios (from dating to street harassment) with support from trained facilitators. Students will leave this workshop more informed, affirmed, and courageous – to speak up and take a stand. Contact: Barbara Ferman barbara.ferman@temple.edu ph: 215-204-6185, www.UCCollab.org (honorarium should be offered to presenters).

April Young-DiPietro from the Camden County Care Management Organization:

Will host a presentation on how to reach out for support help and contacting services. Her contact is: adipietro@camdencmo.org

Educate, Prevent, and Advocate

Seminars for youth in the community to prevent and/or reduce them from engaging in anti-social and normalizing unhealthy behaviors in their dating relationships that could lead to abuse as well as delinquent behaviors in their future. Workshops/ Seminars will be held in community forums and schools. Interactive discussions and activities during the seminars will allow youth to learn about the difference between negative /toxic /abusive behaviors, the different forms of abuse, tips and techniques on how to identify these traits in order to prevent further escalation and involvement in an unhealthy dating relationship. Description: Founded in 1979, The Bridge is a unique program of support and positive lifestyle enrichment for youth and adults. The Bridge offers a variety of interactive workshops and training sessions focused on leadership, communication, team building, anti-bullying, self-care, and more. Rather than being crisis oriented, The Bridge helps to prepare and guide young people in managing the challenges, questions, and issues that arise during their teenage years, and beyond. In addition, The Bridge works with parents, teachers, and other adults to help them support the youth in their lives, as well as find new levels of awareness and life satisfaction. Throughout its history, The Bridge has offered trauma-informed, holistic care, which nurtures physically, spiritually, and emotionally. With that as our foundation, we facilitate safe spaces for authentic relating, and build harmonious connections among diverse participants. We appreciate your interest in us and we look forward to getting to know you or your group at one of our Weekly Empowerment Sessions (ages 13+) or Off-Site Programs!

Description: The Just a Kid from Sicklerville Mentoring and Leadership program (JAKFS) is geared toward the youth and young adults. The goals of this program are to teach basic life skills, the value of education, and quality life choices, and how to create a thriving future. Tyler Hines, Founder of JAKFS, created a structured mentoring program that focuses on at-risk students failing classes and experiencing discipline issues. The mission is to provide the youth of Sicklerville, and surrounding communities, with the tools and opportunities to pursue and accomplish their dreams. Tyler's goal is to show the youth the possibilities that await them as well as how to face challenges they may face on the road to success. Since 2018, JAKFS Mentoring and Leadership Program has led efforts to improve these communities and cultivate confidence needed for our youth to succeed.

Program Name: Fathers Forever

Agency: D-Boys Boxing

Contact: 856-842-7577

Contact Name: David Price

Description: Fathers or the male parental figure from low-income and underserved communities often have challenges or lack the necessary skills and resources, to prevail academically, vocationally, and socially, and thus they are unable to provide the support their children need to prosper. In addition, the youth's chances of success are also minimized because the larger community in low-income and underserved areas face similar barriers. Our mission is to provide a safe, customer friendly environment where youth and adults can learn the sport of boxing, the art of dance and provide a safe haven for youth within the community, while learning the basic life skills of respect, restraint, and responsibility.

Program Name: Volunteer UP Legal Clinic

Agency: Volunteer Up Legal Clinic

Contact: 1-856-217-8686

Contact Name: Patricia A. Legge, Esq.

Description: The Clinic assists clients with many types of legal issues that are common to low-income persons, including: bankruptcy, civil rights, drivers' license restorations, employment issues, expungements, family law, government benefits, health care, immigration, landlord-tenant, municipal court fines, wills, estates, probate, powers of attorney, and more. Clients include veterans, returning citizens, those with mental health and addiction issues, and families at risk of becoming homeless, among others. Our staff meets with clients who seek legal services to determine their specific legal needs and makes appropriate referrals to volunteer lawyers according to areas of expertise and geography. This screening process allows for our pro bono attorneys to maximize the efficiency and effectiveness of their volunteer time.

Volunteer attorneys also support the Clinic by serving as mentors or subject matter experts to other volunteer Clinic attorneys or by speaking at community legal education seminars. Clinic partners can further the mission of the Clinic by, among other things, recruiting volunteer attorneys and providing financial support to offset Clinic and/or client expenses.
